MY BUSINESS METHOD

This List Cancels All Previous Ones

I do not recommend planting in this climate until the latter part of May, and to insure a longer succession of bloom, planting should be extended until the latter part of June.

I start shipping about April 1st, and all orders are filled in rotation as received, but if customers will kindly state at what time after that date they would like them, I will try and ship as near to that date as possible.

I send out divided field grown tubers, every one guaranteed true to name and to arrive in good growing condition. I cannot guarantee them to grow unless they are unpacked immediately upon receipt.

Any complaints must be made at once, and unsatisfactory tubers returned. All retail orders are sent Parcel Post, postage paid, if the order is paid in full. Otherwise they will be sent C. O. D.

All orders taken at the shows will be sent C. O. D. unless other arrangements are made at time of placement of orders.

As the demand for some varieties often exceeds the supply, it will be well to order early and so avoid disappointment. It will also be well to name a second choice or state if I may substitute for any that I am sold out of.

Remittance should be made by P. O. Money Order, Bank Draft, Express Order, or sums for less than $1.00, stamps will be accepted.

While my system for handling orders is as near perfect as possible, yet in the rush of business, errors are apt to occur, and I wish to be promptly notified of such, and I will at once make same satisfactory.

Always keep a copy of your order for comparison.

Names and Addresses. Please remember to write name and address plainly. Give State, City or Town, Number of Street and Post Office Box Number.

Cultural direction will be sent with bulbs.

A VIEW OF ONE OF MY FIELDS

SPECIAL
For My 1928 Catalogue.

To all that will send me $.50, I will send a dahlia tuber worth at least $1.00, postage paid. This offer is to have more people grow my Dahlias for 1928.

GIVE THEM THE FLOWERS NOW

From "Heart Throbs"

Closed eyes can't see the white roses,
Cold hands can't hold them, you know;
Breath that is stilled cannot gather
The odor that sweet from them blow.
Death, with a peace beyond dreaming,
Its children of earth doth endow;
Life is the time we can help them,
So give them the flowers now !

Here are the struggles and striving,
Here are the cares and the tears;
Now is the time to be smoothing
The frowns and the furrows and fears.
What to closed eyes are kind sayings?
What to hushed hearts is deep vow?
Naught can avail after parting,
So give them the flowers now !

Blooms from the happy hearts's garden,
Plucked in the spirits of love;
Blooms that are earthly reflections
Of flowers that blossom above.
Words cannot tell what a measure
Of blessing such gift will allow,
To dwell in the lives of many,
So give them the flowers now !

—Leigh M. Hodges.

CLASSIFICATION OF DAHLIAS

As Adopted by the American Dahlia Society

Cactus Dahlias

a. True, fluted type: Flowers fully double; floral rays (petals) long, narrow, incurved or twisted, with sharp, divided, or fluted points and with revolute (rolled back) margins, forming, in the outer florets, a more or less perfect tube for more than half the length of the ray.

b. Hybrid cactus or semi-cactus type: Flowers fully double; floral rays short as compared with previous type, broad, flat, recurved or twisted, not sharply pointed, except when tips are divided (stag-horn), margins only slightly revolute, and tubes of outer florets, if any less than half the length of the ray.

Decorative Dahlias

Double flowers, full to center in early season, flat rather than ball shaped, with broad, flat, somewhat loosely arranged floral rays with broad points or rounded tips, which are straight or decurved (turned down or back,) not incurved, and with margins revolute if rolled at all.

Ball-Shaped Double Dahlias

a. Showtype: Double flowers, globular or ball-shaped, rather than broad or flat, full to center, showing regular spiral arrangement of florets; floral rays more or less quilled or markedly involute margins and rounded tips.

(The class called Fancy Dahlias is not recognized separately in this classification, but is included in subsection A.)

b. Hybrid show, giant show or colossal type: Flowers fully double, broadly hemispherical to flatly globular in form, loosely built so spiral arrangements of florets is not immediately evident; floral rays broad, heavy, cupped or quilled, with rounded tips and involute margins.

c. Pompon type: Shape and color may be same as A or B; but must be under two inches in diameter.

Paeony-flowered or "Art" Dahlias

Semi-double flowers, with open center, the inner floral rays being usually curled or twisted, the other or outer petals being either flat or more or less irregular.

Duplex Dahlias

Semi-double flowers, with center almost exposed on opening of bud, with petals in more than one row, more than 12, long and flat, or broad and rounded, not noticeably twisted or curled. Many so-called Paeony-flowered Dahlias belong here.

Single Dahlias

Open centered Dahlias, small to very large, with 8 to 12 floral rays, more or less in one circle, margins often decurved (turned down or back). There are no distinctions as to colors. The type embraces the large Twentieth Century, as well as small English varieties.

Collarette Dahlias

Single type: Open centered blossoms with not more than nine floral rays with one or more smaller rays, usually of a different color, from heart of each ray floret, making a collar.

GREETINGS — 1928

N presenting to you my 1928 catalogue, I wish to thank you for your kind patronage and hope to be again favored with your orders, which I assure you, will be filled in the same painstaking manner. My own introductions, I am sure, have met with the approval of all that have tried them.

As you will note, as you look through the following pages, you will find very brief descriptions, as I have found out by experience that long descriptions only confuse the buyer so I have made them all as brief as possible.

I have added a great many new varieties during the past season and I wish to call special attention to them: Premier George Clemenceau, Cochegan, Iona, Queen of Red and also the John Harding varieties. These you will find throughout my catalogue.

The new varieties of the Chemar Dahlia Gardens which I am cataloguing for the first time, you will find extra fine and worth growing in any first class collection.

If there should be a certain variety that you want and if you do not find it catalogued, write me, as I may have it as I grow a great many varieties not catalogued.

In closing, may I say this; When you have flowers, give some to the sick and shut-ins and receive the blessing of those to whom you give. A very Happy New Year to all.
